Manager Guides: Sickness Absence

This guide provides step-by-step instructions for accurately recording and managing sickness absence within the iTrent system. Whether you are updating existing records, adding new instances of sickness, or handling more complex cases such as employees with multiple positions or prolonged absences starting on a half day, this guide will support you through each scenario. By following these procedures, you can ensure compliance with HR policies and maintain up-to-date records for all employees.

Recording Sickness in iTrent

Sickness must be recorded differently in iTrent compared to CoreHR.

In CoreHR, sickness entitlement was calculated in hours based on an employee's work schedule. As a result, managers only needed to record sickness for the actual days the employee was absent.

In iTrent, however, sickness entitlement is calculated in calendar days. This means that if an employee is off sick for a full week, the absence must be recorded as 7 consecutive calendar days, not just the employee's working days.

This also applies to part-time employees. For example, if an employee works only on Tuesdays and Wednesdays and is off sick for both days, the sickness should be recorded from Tuesday to the following Monday, covering a full 7-day period.

Recording Sickness for Employees with Multiple Positions

When recording sickness in iTrent, it is important to add the sickness absence to each position the employee is absent from, including any casual positions.

Please note: Statutory Sick Pay (SSP) will not be triggered unless sickness is recorded against all applicable positions.

If the employee is off sick from all positions, managers should use the 'All Jobs' option when adding the sickness absence. This ensures the absence is applied to every position the employee holds, helping to avoid any issues with SSP eligibility.

Updating Sickness Absence

Prolonged Sickness Absence Starting on a Half Day

If an employee begins a prolonged sickness absence with a half day, the absence must be entered as two separate records:

- One entry for the half-day absence
- A second entry for the extended absence starting the next day
- 1. To do this, navigate to the Employee's Summary Page. From the landing dashboard, click "Your Staff". Select the relevant employee from the search bar in the left-hand pane.

3. The sickness absence form will open. Under Absence Length, select "Half Day" and specify AM or PM only. The part day option should not be used.

Please note: Entitlements in iTrent are daily. Therefore, the Sickness period can be full, part or more than one day BUT the Absence start type should be full or half day – PM only. Part day/absence start time or hours absent should NOT be input. Clients should consider how to record absences that were previously logged as part days or specific hours. For example, if an employee works for 2 hours and then goes on sick leave, this might now be recorded as a half-day absence.

- Enter the start date only leave the end date blank.
- Choose the appropriate absence type and reason from the dropdown lists
