Purposes and Lawful basis

Data Protection Legislation such as UK GDPR makes a distinction between “controllers” and “processors” of information about people. A controller decides why and how to process the personal information. A processor only processes information on behalf of a controller, based on the controller’s instructions, and does not make any decisions about personal information and how it will be used. Delt Shared Services Ltd. may be either a controller or a processor, depending on the scenario.

Information about you is likely to be provided to Delt Shared Services Ltd. by your employer or service provider, or directly from you.

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. is the controller

Delt Shared Services Ltd. will use personal data for its legitimate business interests of managing the organisation’s finances (including fulfilment of financial commitments or contracts with customers and service providers), and in managing the provision of financial management services to customer organisations.

These services may include:

- Invoicing customers
- Processing and distributing payments
- Revenue accounting • Managing corporate credit cards
- Financial Forecasting and Planning
- Assessing Profitability

Delt Shared Services Ltd. will use the minimum necessary personal data to manage these services. This is likely to be limited to basic business-related identifiers such as name, contact information and role, but may also include banking information if payments are made to or from an account that identifies you.

If you are a Delt Shared Services Ltd. employee, please see the privacy information published on the company intranet for processing that relates to you.

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. is a processor

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. processes information that relates to you on behalf of our customer with whom we have a contract to provide financial services such as those listed above.

As well as basic identifiers this may include other information about you, for example:

- If financial forecasting or profitability services are provided, processing may include wage, benefits or entitlements data, and funding or allowances of employees or service users which may identify you (depending on what information is provided by our customer).
- If as part of the service delivered to our customer payments are made to or received from you, and your banking arrangements identify you.

See transparency information published by your employer or service provider for additional information such as their legal basis processing this information about you. Delt Shared Services Ltd. will only process information on their behalf as they instruct, and will not use or share it for our own purposes.

If you are contractor or supplier to Delt Shared Services Ltd., or through us to our customers, please see the Contractors and Suppliers Transparency Notice listed on our privacy page (<https://deltaservices.com/privacy-policy/>).

How we get the personal information

Information about you is likely to be provided to Delt Shared Services Ltd. by your employer or service provider, unless your employer or service provider has also instructed us to maintain or collect that information from you on their behalf.

Processors and International Transfers

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. is the Data Controller, the data above which identifies you will be processed in the UK.

We use third party data processors to provide elements of services on our behalf. This includes (for example) our payment processing providers, cloud hosted data storage, suppliers of IT systems and service providers. The contracts we have in place with these data processors means they must not do anything with your personal information unless we have instructed them to do so. This includes sharing your personal information with any organisation apart from us. They will hold and retain it securely only for the period we instruct.

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd is the data processor, there may be other exceptions to the above if our customer specifies or provides us with access to a specific IT system that we are required to use, which may be managed by them or supplied by the third party they have selected with whom they have a contract. For example, they may require that we use a specific finance application or their own information store (e.g. their SharePoint tenant) to store finance records which may include information that identifies you.

As your employer/service provider is the Data Controller in this instance we would always recommend referring to the privacy information they publish for you for a complete picture of how information about you is processed

Retention

Information that is about you that is managed by Delt Shared Services Ltd. will only be kept for as long as required for the purpose. Financial services information, which may include information that identifies you, will be held for 7 years.

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. are providing Financial Services to a customer organisation of which you are an employee or service user, information will be held for as long as they direct. Should their contract with us end data will either be returned to them or disposed of securely, as they instruct us. A list of Delt Shared Services Ltd customers can be found here:

<https://deltaservices.com/who-we-are/our-customers/>.

Unstructured information such as that held in email may be retained indefinitely.

Your data protection rights

Please note: Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. processes information that relates to you as a result of Financial Services it is contracted to provide on behalf of your employer or service provider, your employer or service provider makes decisions about what is collected and how it is processed (they remain the Data Controller). Where this is the case, to exercise these rights you will need to contact your employer or service provider.

UK GDPR gives you rights over personal data that relates to you (as you can see from above, this is likely to be minimal) these include:

- The right to ask us for copies of your personal information.
- The right to ask us to rectify personal information if you can show it is incorrect and ask us to complete information you can show is incomplete.
- The right to ask us to erase your personal information where Delt Shared Services Ltd no longer has a legitimate purpose to process it.
- The right to stop us processing your personal information where Delt Shared Services Ltd. does not have a legal or contractual obligation to process your personal information.
- The right, in certain circumstances, to ask us to restrict the processing of your personal information.
- The right, in some circumstances, to object to the processing of your personal information. The right to prevent any wholly automated decisions involving personal data; Delt Shared Services Ltd. does not however use any wholly automated decision-making techniques about individuals.

Where Delt Shared Services Ltd. is processing information about you for our own purposes, to exercise any of these rights please contact us at DataProtectionOfficer@deltaservices.co.uk. You are not required to pay any charge for exercising your rights. If you make a request, we have one month to respond to you.

You may need to prove your identity before getting access to data that relates to you or exercising your other rights. This may be by providing a proof of ID (we will not keep a copy once it has been verified) or by providing contextual information that proves that you are who you say you are.

If your request relates to access to personal data that relates to you that Delt holds about you as part of managing the contracted service:

- We invite you to use Delt's Subject Access Request Form. This will help you to provide the information we need to process your request as quickly as possible, including verification of identity.
- We may write back to ask for clarification or to request that you to narrow or modify your requirements if they are unclear. This will pause the one month timescale for the complete response.
- If your request is complex or we have received multiple requests from you we may extend the time for a further two months. We will tell you if this applies within the initial month and as soon as we identify it.
